FIELD SUPPORT COMMAND

Tracing a Lineage of Warfighter Support

Tracing a lineage back to Prepositioned Materiel Configured to Unit Sets (POMCUS) for reinforcement units deploying primarily to Europe to resist Soviet attack, the U.S. Army Field Support Command (FSC), was established to serve as the Army's centralized executing agent for all Army Prepositioned Stocks (APS).

LINEAGE

- U.S. Army War Reserve Support Command (AWRSPTCMD) was established on 25 November 1996 to serve as the Army's centralized executing agent for all Army Prepositioned Stocks (APS).
- FSC constituted 1 October 2000 from the former U.S. Army War Reserve Support Command (AWRSPTCMD)

DESCRIPTION

- Located at 56 sites in 15 countries, 20 states, and one U.S. territory where these prepositioned stocks worth over $10 billion are stored
- Employs over 2,800 personnel, including active duty soldiers, reserve component soldiers, Department of the Army civilians, host country nationals, and contracted employees
